

PHILS WON FLAG SINCE SUFFRAGE WAS TALESMAN Women Gave Moran's Club Its Start Pennantward on July 7

MRS. PHIL HUGHES' WORK

Woman suffrage won the pennant! The Phillies, of course, played an important part in the bringing of the National League flag to this city after 23 years, but the suffragists by no means were idle while this task was being accomplished. Indeed they lay claim to the fact that they alone changed the Phillies' flag in July and started them pennantward. What good is a good team if it has had luck, say the suffs; and they brought the luck. Records seem to substantiate their claims.

In addition to the Phillies being ardent suffragists (which also contributed an important part in their success), the Phillies set apart July 7 of this summer as "Suffrage Day." This was the crucial stage of the game. Chicago was leading and the Phillies seemed to be running in bad luck. On July 6, the day before "Suffrage Day," the Phils had lost a hard game to New York by the score of 5 to 1. A double-header was scheduled for the following day and the prospects looked dark. The New York team felt "cocky" and expected to clean up, for the Phils had been playing indifferent ball. The Phils admit they felt just a little gloomy.

The suffs went up en masse to see the game, occupying the boxes. A $10 gold-plated offering was made by Phil Hughes who hit a home run. The first game was close and heart-breaking for the Phils. They lost, 5 to 4. The suffs, undaunted, cheered all the more lustily. The second game was all the harder, but Demaree pulled it out of the fire and the Phils won, 1 to 0. It was a great day. The suffs made speeches and the Phillies were kept their winning streak up. They did.

Now the suffs say that in return for the good luck they brought every member on the team should vote for woman suffrage at the polls on November 2. Not only the team, but also every loyal Philly voter, for it was largely through them, the suffragists say, that the pennant came to Philadelphia.

The suffs are not going to stop at bringing the National League championship to Philadelphia. They are going after the world's series championship. They figure that if they changed the Phillies' luck, therefore enabling them to capture the flag, they should attempt to capture the world's series games. The suffragists are thinking seriously of attending some of the games in a body, as they did on "Suffrage Day."

Mass-Meeting Planned at U. of P. in Support of Project

A mass-meeting is being planned by the students at the University of Pennsylvania in support of a project which would erect an ice skating rink at 33rd and Walnut streets. The rink, according to the Pennsylvanian, would be supported by the entire student body.

It is pointed out that Philadelphia is one of the few cities that does not have an indoor ice skating rink and that such a structure, if erected near the University, would revive sports of various kinds and be an incentive for organizing a hockey team there.

Should the rink be erected the University team would be granted special privileges, it is said, such as free use of the rink for practice, and an expert hockey player would visit the University three nights each week and aid in developing a team.

E. U. Dodge, one of the directors of the Philadelphia Ice Skating Company, has received a letter from W. M. Lougee, of the Boston rink, inviting him to form an interscity hockey league to include Philadelphia, New York, Boston and Pittsburgh.

Andrews, secretary of the league, made the presentation, and stated that the medal was awarded because of the President's work in the recent controversy with Germany.

Commissioner of Education P. P. Claxton and Dr. D. B. Johnson, president of the National Educational Association, also presented the President with the medal. The President was invited to attend the next session of the association in New York, next July. He took the invitation under advisement.

Mother and Child Burned

Severe burns, resulting from a parlor fire, sent Mrs. Anna Tratsky and her 12-year-old son Edward to the Polyclinic hospital from their home, at 1311 South 25th street. The woman was burned while trying to smother the flames that leaped from her child after his clothing caught fire from the fire he had built in the parlor while his father and mother were outside the house. Policeman Mattie, of the 10th and Federal streets station, beat the flames in the parlor when the woman rushed to the street, screaming for aid, while the blaze seared herself and her baby. The child's condition was little improved today, and his burns may prove serious.

THIS WAS WHEN THE PHILS STARTED THEIR MARCH PENNANTWARD, SAY "SUFFS"

It was on July 7 that the Suffragists gave the Phillies their good luck. They turned out en masse; they sold tickets for the game, and they gave Bert Niehoff $10 for knocking a home run. It was a great day and the good luck continued. The picture shows a section of the suffragist crowd in attendance. The insert on the left is Mrs. Phil Hughes, who won the prize that day for selling the most tickets. The other is Miss Hannah Patterson, who threw out the first ball before the game with the Giants.

NATURE POET'S VIOLIN SOOTHES SAVAGE ZOO

After Driving Animals Into Constriction Fits, Musician Changes His Style

The rhino and the rabbit, as well as the bear and the bison at the Philadelphia Zoo are feasting today for the return of a mysterious Westerner to "soothe their savage breasts." The animals, whose ancestors probably underwent the same experience with the great God Pan or Orpheus, were alternately aroused and soothed, excited and calmed in a quite shameful manner by the stranger by means of a violin, which skillfully imitated the cries of birds and beasts.

The musician, who described himself as Roy Young, "violinist and nature poet," secured permission from the Zoo officials to experiment on the animals with his violin. For two hours he "fiddled," causing shrieks of fear and anger, and then bringing the animals to passive submission by playing a soothing lullaby. Some of the creatures refused to respond. The failure, Mr. Young explained, was due to the fact that these particular animals' "dominant note" was an unknown quantity.

The ability of a musician, especially a violinist, to make a dog howl with a certain note is well known. This was the principle on which the "nature poet" worked yesterday. His first effort nearly cost him his valuable violin, as a bull lion took exception to a certain weird strain in "The Alamogordo Rag" and charged, causing Mr. Young to scramble over the fence. Somebody's "Hunting Song" caused the herd of Scotch red deer to flee in terror. Tschakowsky's "Marche Slav" made a huge chimpanzee show its teeth and howl with rage. Its anger was in an instant changed to joy with Schubert's soothing "Traumerl." Ostrich, rhinoceros, leopard and monkeys were in turn, made subjects of the experiment.

MONTE CROSS A JUROR

But Ex-Baseball Player and Present Fan Will See Big Games Just the Same

Monte Cross, ex-big leaguer, and one-time member of both the Athletics and the Phillies, had the tough luck of being called for service on the Grand Jury just at a time when his pulse is beating hard with the baseball fever. And, as the former shortstop captained his ball-tossers on the field, so he will lead the Grand Jurors on their tours of inspection. Judge McMichael, of Quarter Sessions Court, an ardent fan, appointed Cross foreman of the body today. The Judge, apparently understanding the disappointment which Cross would experience if he was kept from the World's Series games, returned to excuse the former ballplayer from October 7 to October 15. Cross also has some of the Athletics' players booked for post-season games.

FOUR HURT IN FIGHT

Policeman and Three Assaults Sent to Hospital

Three young men in Bridesburg were held for a further hearing today after a fight with a policeman who was enforcing a quarantine of the Board of Health. They are Joseph Stanecki, 16 years old, of 431 Almond street; Frank Michaels, 23 years old, and his brother Stanley, 23 years old, of 434 Almond street. It was testified before Magistrate Campbell today that the three attacked Policeman Vogt, of the Belgrade and Clearfield streets station, after Vogt had refused to permit two boys to escape from the rear of 432 Almond street, which is under quarantine. In the fight which followed Vogt was struck by a brick, which, he said, was held by Frank Michaels. Stanley Michaels was injured about the head by the policeman's club. All four participants had to be taken to the Episcopal Hospital for treatment of the fight. The prisoners were arrested by Policeman McGucken on description furnished by Vogt.

Department of Justice Refuses Request of Cardinal Gibbons

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The request of Cardinal Gibbons that ex-President Huerta be released by the United States will not be granted. Justice Department officials said today that evidence in their hands of Huerta's activities were such that they considered it highly important to keep him in custody until a government is established in Mexico. He will remain in an army camp on the border, it was said.

MOBS DEMAND LIVES OF PARTICIPANTS IN COATESVILLE AFFRAY

Town Virtually Under Martial Law After Negro Shoots Syrian and in Turn is Stabbed by Another

Two men are in a serious condition at the West Chester Hospital and the borough of Coatesville is virtually under martial law today following a clash between negroes and Syrians there yesterday. The situation assumed an aspect similar to that which led to the lynching of Zach Walker at Coatesville several years ago.

The more seriously injured of the men is Assia George, a Syrian, whose leg was almost amputated by a lead shot from a shotgun. His assailant, Alexander Fisher, a negro, is suffering from two severe knife wounds in the back. Fisher was wounded by Joseph Morgus, also a Syrian, who is in the Coatesville police station, closely guarded by a detail of 50 special deputies sworn in by Burgess Jones and four members of the State constabulary.

The trouble occurred when a bulldog belonging to the injured negro entered the yard of Morgus and attacked the latter's 9-month-old baby. Assia George ran to the child's assistance and drove the dog off by kicking. This was resented by Fisher. He got his gun and shot George. Morgus came to the assistance of his friend with a stiletto and stabbed Fisher in the back. Almost immediately news of the affair spread over the town. Morgus was arrested and Fisher and George were rushed to the Coatesville Hospital, scarcely in time to escape mobs of armed negroes and Syrians who had assembled.

One mob of negroes stormed about the police station, clamoring for the blood of Morgus, while a second mob of negroes guarded the hospital to see that no harm came to the injured men. More than 200 Syrians then assembled at the hospital and threatened to storm the institution unless Fisher was turned over to them.

When this crisis was reached the special deputies and regular police of Coatesville were rushed to the scene to disperse the mobs, while the injured men were hurried secretly from the building and taken to the West Chester Hospital.

MRS. ROGERS IN AUTO CRASH

Wife of Assistant District Attorney in Serious Condition

Mrs. Joseph P. Rogers, wife of Assistant District Attorney Rogers, is in a serious condition at her summer home at Malvern as the result of an automobile accident yesterday on the Lancaster pike at Fraser. Her 12-year-old daughter Josephine was also injured, but not seriously.

A car driven by M. Barnard, of Columbia, Pa., crashed into the car in which were Mrs. Rogers and her two daughters, Catherine, 8 years old, was not injured. The chauffeur, likewise, escaped injury. The accident occurred near a bend in the road, and it was said that the car driven by Barnard was going at high speed.

The Rogers chauffeur says that as the two cars approached each other the other machine swerved as if the driver had lost control of it. A moment later the crash came.

Politician Commits Suicide

Frank D. Vandergriff, a Democratic politician of the 6th Ward, hanged himself in the cellar of his home at 279 Pratt street, Bridesburg, yesterday. Mr. Vandergriff was 66 years old and had been employed in the Diakon saw works. He is said to have been worried over an addition he was building to his home, the cost of which exceeded his estimates. A summons for jury duty in Common Pleas Court No. 3 was found in his pocket.

MIGHTY SHIPS PLAY IRON GAME OF WAR

"Attack" on United States Coast Begins at Hampton Roads Tonight

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 4.—Scenes of Spanish War days were repeated here today with the opening of the navy's war game. The "attack" upon the United States coast begins at midnight tonight. A score of dreadnaughts and smaller craft were to sail today to the "battle-ground." Some of the fleet has already taken station along the coast.

Hampton Roads was a scene of great activity today for the inauguration of the war game. The "red" or hostile fleet is already hovering somewhere along the coast ready to strike. The defensive fleet, the last line of which sails before midnight, will soon be on guard.

Under the rules the "blue" defending forces have until midnight to assume positions. After that hour the invaders will be free to strike any part of the coast if they are able.

Use of mines, submarines and aeroplanes are to play a large part in the present war game. Theoretically, and at some points actually, mine fields have been planted and submarines stationed. For reconnaissance, hydroplanes and aeroplanes will be used by both fleets.

STOLEN AUTO FOUND

Machine Abandoned by Thieves, Knocked Down Girl

A Ford auto with red wheels was found abandoned at Haddonfield, N. J., today. It had been stolen from the corner of Germantown avenue and Tulpehocken street Saturday night and one of the adventures of the auto thieves had been to run down a little girl and drive away without knowing whether or not they had killed her.

She is Margaret Reeves, 7 years old, of 505 Sprague street, and is in the Germantown Hospital suffering from a severe sprain of the back. The auto is the property of Charles N. Forsyth, of 317 North 18th street. After stealing it, the thieves dashed down Germantown avenue to Chelton avenue and it was at that thoroughfare, near Sprague street, that the accident occurred.

FIRE IN APARTMENTS; ORIGIN MYSTERIOUS

Tenant Says He Heard Footsteps in Hall Just Before Blaze Was Discovered

Two score men and women in night attire rushed from the Tracy apartment house, 26th and Ludlow streets, today when fire was discovered on the sixth floor. Many carried much of their wardrobe under their arms; others simply grabbed their jewelry. Most of the men had grabbed their overcoats and gallantly lent them to the shivering women.

The blaze was discovered in the bathroom of the apartments of Stewart Fraser, on the sixth floor. Louis A. Rommel, who occupies the apartment adjoining that of Fraser, said he heard mysterious footsteps in the corridors for several hours before the fire, and this was followed by a pounding noise in the bathroom. It is believed that the early morning visitor may have caused the fire.

The fire caused a loss of $100. Its origin is unknown.

POLICE OF MANY STATES SEEK JEWEL THIEVES

Fortune in Gems Stolen From Widow of Late Senator James McMillan

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Search for jewels valued at more than $25,000 stolen from the summer home of Mrs. James McMillan, widow of the late United States Senator, occupied the attention of the police of New York and all New England today.

The jewels, the police here were advised, were stolen from the McMillan home, at Manchester-by-the-Sea, Mass., on the night of August 7. Among the jewels taken was one pearl necklace valued at $12,000. A diamond chain valued at $500 and numerous rings and other pieces worth from $100 to $400 are missing.

On the night of the robbery Mrs. McMillan saw that her jewels were put in their usual place in the safe. All servants were questioned following the discovery of the theft, but all disclaimed knowledge of the disappearance of the gems.
